

Gallbladder cancer concomitant with autosomal dominant polycystic kidney disease: A case report

Hisashi Murakami¹, Satoshi Okubo¹, Masahiro Kobayashi¹, Miho Akabane¹, Masaru Matsumura¹, Junichi Shindoh¹, and Masaji Hashimoto¹

¹Toranomon Hospital

October 26, 2022

Abstract

The case is a 67-year-old female with autosomal dominant polycystic kidney disease who was followed up regularly. CT scan showed a mural nodule growing over the past 4 years inside the hypodense region surrounded by hepatic cysts. Surgery was performed and the pathological diagnosis was Stage I gallbladder cancer.

Hosted file

Main document.doc available at <https://authorea.com/users/517645/articles/592102-gallbladder-cancer-concomitant-with-autosomal-dominant-polycystic-kidney-disease-a-case-report>

