

Figure 5: Venn diagram representing the number of SNPs putatively associated to environmental variables detected with each of the environmental association study methods. In total, Baypass detected 307 SNPs putatively under selection, while LFMM2 and RDA respectively detected 367 and 584 SNPs. This Venn diagram was produced using the library VennDiagram in R.