

the WINNOWER

---

PHYSICS

RC4: Live Results

ANTHONY SALVAGNO

---

 READ REVIEWS

 WRITE A REVIEW

CORRESPONDENCE:

asalvagn@unm.edu

DATE RECEIVED:

June 10, 2015

DOI:

10.15200/winn.142722.23358

ARCHIVED:

March 24, 2015

CITATION:

Anthony Salvagno, RC4: Live Results, The Winnower 2:e142722.23358, 2015, DOI: 10.15200/winn.142722.23358

© Salvagno This article is distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and redistribution in any medium, provided that the original author and source are credited.

This is a set of two species. The first half is arabidopsis labeled as CA (columbia arabidopsis) and the second half is tobacco labeled as VG (Virginia Gold #1). I added a second graph to chart arabidopsis growth. Since it tends to grow much faster I don't want the data to be presented in a confusing manner, which explains having two separate charts.

I love Google Docs!